- A high school senior who would be the first in his family to graduate high school, if he just got some extra help with physics.*
- A family left homeless after a fire destroyed their home.*
- A child born with HIV to a mother who is dying of AIDS.*
- A father of four who was left paralyzed after a fall.*
- A young, single mother who wants a great academic future for her children, but doesn't know how to help them.*
- An elderly woman who, with just a little help, could remain in her home, instead of moving to a nursing home.*
